What Can You Accomplish?

by Chris Earley

I didn't go to a top tier law school.

I wasn't on law review.

I was just happy to be in law school and so I worked really hard.

After graduation I took a chance and opened up a practice in 2005 with nothing but total ignorance, massive debt, and a big appetite.

I had to because no law firm was offering me a job.

I am now roughly mid-career and I can tell you that where you go to law school, and whether or not you were on law review, does NOT matter in this field.

I believe the ONLY thing that matters when it comes to succeeding in law and in life comes down to how much you are willing to go for it.

EVERYBODY plays it safe.

And there is nothing wrong with safe.

But if you want something more than safe, jump off that cliff and see what you are capable of accomplishing.

If this guy (who practically no law school and definitely no law firm wanted) can get after it, then so can YOU.

UPDATE: Blessed to say this law firm keeps growing and growing. We now have 16 team members, our culture is on-point, and we are serving more and more members of the community.

Turns out rejection was the best thing ever. 🙏

EARLEY OFFICE BUZZ

We are now on billboards! We have 8 of these sprinkled throughout the Boston area. Call Earley... before it's too late!

We have a few sweatshirts left so if you want one, be sure to call the office and we would be glad to send you your very own (and very cozy) Earley Law Group Injury Lawyers sweatshirt!

I had a great time in Miami recently speaking at the National Trial Lawyers Conference. Some of the very best trial lawyers in the entire country were at this event, and I was completely honored and humbled to be able to deliver a presentation there. (The only reason I got this speaking gig was because I asked for it. So don't pull your punches. If you want something in life, ask for it.) 🙏

We are now on billboards!

Call the office at 617-444-7777 to get one of these cozy sweatshirts (while supplies last)!

RORY'S RECIPES: Sheet Pan Nachos

Our family loves these nachos, especially during Sunday football games!

Enjoy!

INGREDIENTS:

- Tortilla chips (we like multigrain chips)
- Shredded cheese (any kind, spicy or mild)
- Diced avocado
- Diced tomatoes
- Salsa
- Sour cream
- Chives or scallions

DIRECTIONS:

- 1 Preheat the broiler on high. Arrange the chips on a sheet pan covered with foil (for easy transfer onto serving dish). Cover in shredded cheese and make sure if there are layers that those bottom layers get cheese coverage.
- 2 Put under the broiler for a few minutes until nice and melted (we prefer them on the well-done side)! Then, once it's out of the oven, cover in diced-up avocado, tomatoes and scallions!
- 3 Then I add ramekins of salsa and sour cream to the side. I like to add chopped chives in the sour cream for extra flavor.
- 4 The beauty of nachos is that they are a blank canvas to add anything you love! Beans, onions, chili or ground beef are great options too. Make it your own and enjoy. 📺

This is a scenario millions of people throughout America face...

You had a car accident. What are you supposed to do now? You are injured. Maybe you can't even go to work. You are receiving medical treatment. Are medical bills piling up? You may be stressed about the situation. What are you supposed to do now? The next steps you take are going to be crucial. You may or may not have been through this process before. The key now is to immediately protect yourself, and your rights. But how do you do that? Who are you supposed to trust? It is important to educate yourself on what to do, and when to do it, in order to maximize your case. I hope this guide educates and teaches you on just how many traps there are in the claims process awaiting you. I hope it also inspires you to STAND UP and demand nothing short of fair compensation for your case.
